Terms of Agreement

1. The initial sale price will be determined by Almost NEW. Items are subject to markdowns and special sales and promotional discounts. The consignor receives 50% of the selling price during the 60-day consignment period, and 40% thereafter.
2. An inventory list will be provided to the consignor (via email or for pick-up at the store) after the items are entered into the database and tagged. The inventory list will show the initial sales price for each item as well as the pickup date when the consignment period expires for unsold items.
3. The consignment period is 60 days. At the end of the first 30 day period, if an item has not been sold, its price may be reduced by up to 30%. Items in the store after 60 days will be reduced to clearance pricing. You may re-claim items any time prior to being sold. Items not sold or returned to consignors after 90 days will become the property of Almost NEW.
4. Consignors are responsible for contacting Almost NEW regarding the status of their account. It is best to call the store after 30 days. Payment may be picked up at the store. There is one payment per month. Please note: account balances will be closed after one year of last consignment.
5. Almost NEW is not responsible for damages or loss due to fire, theft, or movement of furniture. Please know that we will handle your items with the greatest care and treat them as if they were our own. We want to sell your items for the best price!
